Maritime Delimitation in the Indian Ocean (Somalia v. Kenya)

The Court to deliver its Judgment on 12 October 2021 at 3 p.m.

THE HAGUE, 24 September 2021. On 12 October 2021, the International Court of Justice, the principal judicial organ of the United Nations, will deliver its Judgment in the case concerning Maritime Delimitation in the Indian Ocean (Somalia v. Kenya). A public sitting of the Court will take place at 3 p.m. at the Peace Palace in The Hague, during which the President of the ICJ, Judge Joan E. Donoghue, will read out the Court's decision.

In view of the current COVID-19 pandemic, only Members of the Court and representatives of the Parties will be present in the Great Hall of Justice. Members of the diplomatic corps, the media and public will be able to follow the reading through a live webcast on the Court's website, as well as on UN Web TV.

History of the proceedings

The history of the proceedings can be found in press releases Nos. 2014/27, 2017/5, 2020/13, 2021/9, 2021/11, 2021/12 and 2021/13, available on the Court's website.

Multimedia

The sitting will be streamed live and on demand (VOD) in English and in French on UN Web TV. High resolution video files and still photos produced by the Registry during the reading of the Judgment will be available free of charge, for non-commercial use, on the Court's website and Twitter feed (@CIJ_ICJ) at the close of the sitting (to download, click on Multimedia).

The International Court of Justice (ICJ) is the principal judicial organ of the United Nations. It was established by the United Nations Charter in June 1945 and began its activities in April 1946. The Court is composed of 15 judges elected for a nine-year term by the General Assembly and the Security Council of the United Nations. The seat of the Court is at the Peace Palace in The Hague (Netherlands). The Court has a twofold role: first, to settle, in accordance with international law, through judgments which have binding force and are without appeal for the parties concerned, legal disputes submitted to it by States; and, second, to give advisory opinions on legal questions referred to it by duly authorized United Nations organs and agencies of the system.
